M-RCBG Summer Internship Grants

Summer 2015

This summer, M-RCBG will help fund 15 students working in unpaid internships throughout the world--from the National Economic Council at The White House to the African Governance Initiative in Ethiopia. Below is a list of students and projects that the center is helping to support:

- Phil Barker’s project will explore the potential for expanding social impact bonds in the UK
- Taniel Chan will be a National Economic Council Graduate Intern at The White House
- Larissa de Lima will work on economic productivity and inclusion at the Brazilian Ministry of Strategic Affairs
- Armand Babacar Dieng will be part of the Africa Growth Initiative at the Brookings Institution
- Clio Dintilhac will work at the African Governance Initiative in Ethiopia advising the government on its industrial park policy
- Aviva Feuerstein will explore the intersection of business and counterterrorism at the International Centre for Political Violence and Terrorism Research
- Christine Hou will work in the private sector operations group at the Asian Development Bank
- Prabhat Mishra will work at the MIT Energy Initiative
- Juan Obach will develop a China Regional Report for the OECD
- May Samali will help entrepreneurs solve urban problems at Tumml, an urban ventures accelerator in San Francisco
- Andrea Sorce will work for the International Disaspora Engagement Alliance at Calvert Foundation
- Maja Sostaric will study social enterprise at the Lien Centre for Social Innovation, Singapore Management University
- Shweta Suresh will be a summer program design and research fellow at mPower Social Enterprises Limited
- Sarah Tesar will work at the International Trade Centre exploring India’s trade preferences for Africa
- Ingrid Wallin Johansson will work at the Swedish Financial Supervisory Authority